

Dear Parent:

Your child has been selected to represent their library in the 2018 NJ Teen Advisory Board Summit. Teens will be sharing their experiences from their active participation in their library's council as well as hearing from other libraries' teens about their experiences. Connecting with like-minded young adults from across the state will enable them to appreciate their own areas of service, give them ideas for future improvements, and make ties for future collaboration. Certificates of attendance will be issued at the event for the students to keep in their records.

This Summit is being conducted through the efforts of the Young Adult Services Section of the New Jersey Library Association and the NJ State Library.

We understand there may be difficulties and inconveniences in transporting your teen to this event. In an effort to make this day more pleasant for you, a list of nearby attractions and activities relative to the location is provided below. You are, of course, welcome to simply enjoy the library at this location. However, these options are being provided in order to give you additional opportunities to enjoy your time while your child is participating in this important event. We acknowledge that without your support, teens would not be able to participate in these activities. We greatly appreciate your dedication to your children. We all benefit from caring teens such as yours. Thank you.
